COAST LEAGUE IN HOME STRETCH.

Pinle will be written on the Coast League season this week, starting Wednesday, when Los Angeles and Vernon meet in a seven-game series, and it will be a feverish finish.

The series will start with a double-header Wednesday. In order to win the pennant, Vernon must take five out of the seven games. This is a big undertaking, but unless Killefer's pitchers are in better form than when they left here, it does not appear an impossibility. With the Angels compelled to jump into a doubleheader right after the long trip from Seattle, gives the Tigers an edge at the start.

Had Los Angeles lost the second game yesterday, Emsick had planned to play Salt Lake a double-header today. By winning them both he would have been under the necessity of taking only four out of seven the final week to win out. But with Los Angeles winning both games yesterday, even if the Tigers had won two today, there would have been a fraction of a point which would have compelled the Tigers still to take five out of seven the final week. So under the conditions, Emsick had nothing to win by playing today, and much to lose if he lost. True, he would have played to a good gate, but he values the championship more than the coin.

Had the teams played two games today they would have been protected by Jim Morley because Emsick had not given Herr twenty-four hours' notice.

A large number of the Pasadena lodge of this will go to San Pedro tomorrow night to assist the Elks of that city in the initiation of a large class of candidates. The delegation will be accompanied by the Pasadena lodge drill team and band.

WAR SURGEONS' REUNION.
Two noted medical men, who were "bunkies" during the war, are holding a reunion here. Maj. Charles R. Bowler of Indianapolis, who was chief of Base Hospital No. 25, in which there were a number of Southern California doctors and nurses, is here, the guest of Dr. S. J. Mattison, who was a surgeon attached to the hospital in France. Maj. Bowler is one of the best-known medical men in the country. He holds the chair of medicine at the University of Indiana, Indianapolis. He is in Southern California on sick leave. He expects shortly to resume his civilian status and take up his college work in Indiana. He is accompanied by his wife and family and hopes in a few years to come here to make his home.

COSTS MORE IN THE EAST.
That the cost of living is higher in the East than it is here was illustrated in a letter just received by J. T. Wallace, assistant cashier of the Security National Bank, from a relative in Portland, Me. This relative reported that candles were $1.50 each in Portland.

TAX TO PAY WILSON'S SALARY THREE MONTHS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The United States treasury is expecting to benefit at least $18,000 on the world series baseball games. Each purchaser of a ticket will have to pay the customary admission tax of 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof, which, on the basis of last year's attendance, will mean enough money to pay the salary of the President for nearly three months.

FORM COMPANY AT SAN DIEGO.

Organization will Operate on the Mexican Coast.

Incorporators Expect to Develop Much New Trade.

Let Contract for Construction of First Boat.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 28.—A number of San Diego men have formed a company known as the Lower Coast Trading Company, to build boats and to trade and carry freight from the coast of Lower California and the west coast of Mexico. The men interested expect to secure much new business from the west coast of Mexico which will open up important outlets for jobbing houses and manufacturers on the lower coast.

The incorporators of the company are R. T. Robinson, Jr., capitalist who heads the company; Capt. A. A. Knowles of the San Diego Harbor; Maj. T. C. MacCauley, well-known aviator of the Tallaferro Field, Texas; Rogues Hazard of the Hazard Gould Mercantile Company; and Thomas Taylor of Winnetka, Ill.

Contracts are to be let at once to the San Diego Marine Construction Company for the building of the first boat of the company to cost $20,000 and this, with Capt. Knowles' boat, the Albatross, will be used at first. The company has $50,000 cash. Robinson has recently returned from France where he was in service. He has a show place at El Cajon near here. Maj. MacCauley, known as one of the most daring cross-country fliers in the service, expects to receive his discharge soon and enter the business actively. Taylor formerly owned a large ranch in old Mexico and has recently returned from France where he served in the Lafayette Escadrille and won several decorations. He is acquainted with Mexican customs and the language.

CAR SHORTAGE IS CAUSE OF BIG LOSS.

GRAPE GROWERS UNABLE TO SEND ENORMOUS CROP TO MARKET.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
DINUBA, Sept. 28.—Not more than 25 per cent. of the Malaga crop of Fresno and Tulare counties has been marketed at a time when normally at least 75 per cent. of the shipments have been made. This condition is due to the shortage of cars, which has continued nearly throughout the season, and means that a heavy rain within the next two weeks would mean a loss of millions to the vineyard owners. Profits for the year, for the most part, are tied up in the grapes yet remaining on the vines.

In the Hanford district the Muscat grape crop is practically cleaned up, which will aid in relieving the situation somewhat, and railroads are promising greater supplies of reefers.

Emperors are ripening rapidly and some effort to ship the first of these grapes probably will be made within the next ten days.

CHOOSE DELEGATES FOR WOMAN'S COUNCIL

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
REDLANDS, Sept. 28.—Mrs. J. J. Sues of Redlands and Mrs. E. De Nava and Dr. Louise Harvey Clarke of Riverside will represent this district, as delegates to the Women's Legislative council to be held at Redlands, Sept. 29 in Los Angeles. In accordance with custom, it is expected that the presidency of this council will shift to the south, and the delegates from this district will support for that office Mrs. A. J. Lett of Santa Ana, who has been in the field for some time, and so far has no opposition. The other candidates prominently mentioned are for the vice-presidency, Mrs. E. D. Knight of San Francisco; for recording secretary, Mrs. Sience of Long Beach; and Miss Bertha Harris of Berkeley for corresponding secretary.

REDLANDS BOOSTERS PLAN BIG CAMPAIGN.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
REDLANDS, Sept. 28.—Redlands is planning to make the fullest use of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce as an advertising medium this year. At a directors' meeting figures were quoted to show that practically all the people who come to Southern California intending to stay, first visit the Los Angeles chamber. The committee in charge of advertising was given authority to proceed with the making of a film of 1200 feet advertising the industrial possibilities of Redlands, the fruit business here and in Yucalpa, and other things that will be likely to attract a person looking for a home. Secretary A. B. Itham will make lectures several times a week at Los Angeles during the winter.

FIRST ANNUAL MEET.

TULARE, Sept. 28.—October 24 has been set as the date for the first annual meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Water Conservation and Development Association to be held here as the result of the general conference of water interests called early this month by the Board of Trade. ## TO SELL LAND AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

STATE DISPOSES OF NEARLY HALF MILLION ACRES.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
RIVERSIDE, Sept. 28.—During the month of October the State will sell by public auction nearly half a million acres of school lands according to Surveyor-General Kingsbury. On October 14 at the San Bernardino Court House, 274,471 acres will be placed on sale. All of these are located in San Bernardino county. The proceeds of the sales will be used for the support of the schools in the State of California. As the first auction sale of State lands held in Los Angeles, August 22, showed a great demand for these lands it is expected that competition for them will be keen.

ARE GOOD GARDENERS.

Youths of Porterville to be Awarded Medal.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
PORTERVILLE, Sept. 28.—According to reports which have been made to the executives of the Ladies' Improvement Club, one hundred and seventy-five of the students of the grammar schools maintained successful gardens during the spring and summer seasons of this year. It had been originally planned that prizes were to be awarded to the garden which were maintained in the best condition in each city district. However, the judges discovered that there was a hopeless race. In consequence the club has voted to provide a medal of a superior quality to be awarded to each of the contestants.

INDIAN HOSPITAL.

Government Agent Urges Big Building Scheme.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

Wadsworth are accepted by the government, a large and commodious hospital for Indians will be erected at Saboba, where it will be centrally located and will serve the needs of all the Indians from the various reservations in this neighborhood. At Saboba, near the town of Desert, Fitzgerald and Shannon of Los Angeles are at Saboba Springs making preliminary surveys and tentative plans for new buildings to be erected on the unit system so that additional work can be made at any time. The institution will be three stories long, with a central corridor and additional help can be secured.

MILLIONS IN NUTS.

Walnut Growers of Orange County Begin Big Harvest.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
SANTA ANA, Sept. 28.—With a house crew of a dozen men and women, the big plant of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' Association will begin operations on the 1919 crop on Monday morning, producing its high grade of Diamond Brand nuts.

Santa Ana went out the first crop of nuts last year, and may claim the same distinction this year, the first crop to be shipped Wednesday or Thursday. Walnut picking is now in full swing, with growers paying from 75 cents to $1.00 per sack for picking, according to individual circumstances. Fifteen or twenty growers have already made deliveries. The Santa Ana association expects to ship 2,500,000 pounds of nuts this season, and the entire Orange county association production is estimated at approximately 11,000,000 pounds, which will return more than $2,000,000 to growers.

BOOSTER MEETING.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

John Hooper of the Canadian Tourist Association will preside at the meeting. It is expected that he will say something of the possibility of the organization of which he is head coming here in the near future.

GET EIGHT DEER.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
SANTA ANA, Sept. 28.—Hunting deer in Tehama county is "the life" according to William F. Diers and Frank Walker of Santa Ana. Diers and Walker were members of a party of four which bagged eight bucks in two days' hunt, beginning at Muligan Springs, about thirty miles east of Red Bluff. The first day out I saw seven bucks and twenty-five does, said Diers. As a result of the reports brought back by Diers and Walker, several Santa Ana hunters are either on the way or will soon be bound for the Tehama deer country.

GROWERS TO STUDY PLANT PATHOLOGY.

EXPERT ARRANGES NIGHT CLASSES FOR FRUIT GROWERS IN TULARE COUNTY.

Lindhay, in charge of plant pathology investigations for the Horticultural Commission of Tulare county, has completed the arrangements for conducting a series of night classes for fruit growers. These conferences to be conducted alternately in Porterville, Exeter and Lindsay. The instruction will cover a period of twenty weeks. ## GAS FUMES KILL CHILD AT PLAY.

MOTHER OPENS JETS OF KITCHEN RANGE WHILE MOTHER SLEEPS.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
LONG BEACH, Sept. 27.—Stealing into the kitchen while her mother was asleep, Grace Estelle Williams, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Williams of 2111 Lime avenue, pulled the gas cocks of the kitchen range wide open in play, and when discovered was dead on the kitchen floor. The mother was awakened by the fumes of gas issuing from the kitchen, the doors and windows of which were closed. The child had closed the door leading from the "dimple" room apparently to avoid detection, as she had expressed a fondness for playing around the stove, and had been sternly warned of the danger. The child was taken to a local hospital, where she was pronounced dead by the physicians. The family came to Long Beach eighteen months ago from Mexico. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon. Interment will be made at Sunnyside Cemetery.

SPRING FESTIVAL AT SANTA BARBARA.

The festival will be arranged, every detail being high class, and no commercial spirit will be permitted to have a part in the celebration.

Among the promoters of the plan are George S. Edwards, Robert C. Chaffield-Taylor, T. M. Stork, Donald Fernald, James B. Rickard, John A. Parma, Mark Bradley, Clarence Black, J. P. Jefferson, R. W. Hershey, John P. Donahue, Arturo G. Ornes, J. A. Lowley, Seth A. Keane, E. P. Dunn, Theodore S. Hawley, John J. Herbar, Francis P. Greene, Maj. McGregor, Dr. C. C. Park, Charles L. Taylor, John F. Most of your thinking is done in words. It is impossible to think in words which you do not possess. Your thought must suffer for the words you lack. A limited vocabulary means limited thought, limited authority, and limited power.

The idea, plan or proposal which COMPELS attention is expressed in precise, convincing language—language persuasive, forceful, and gleaming with just the suggestion you're trying to "drive home."

The average man of today can add largely to his efficiency, influence, and income if he will give a few minutes each day to Grenville Kleiser's fascinating Mail Course in Practical English.

BOOTH TARKINGTON, Distinguished Novelist: "Your course is almost painfully needed by many professional writers and speakers. A student who intelligently follows your course will know what he is talking about when he talks or writes. His audience will certainly know, because he will talk well, no matter what his subject."

IRVIN S. COBB, War Correspondent, Novelist, Lecturer: "Any man who helps English-speaking people to a better knowledge of practical English deserves praise and has mine."

JOHN BURROUGHS, famous Naturalist and Writer: "I see valuable and helpful hints in these lessons. Any young man or woman who has an undeveloped literary talent ought to profit greatly by this course."

STRIKE ISSUE IS BEFORE CABINET

Lloyd George Confers with Members Throughout Day.

Premier Puts Blame on Red Agitators in Unions.

Declares Vicious Minority has the Upper Hand.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Sept. 28.—Premier Lloyd George, Sir Eric Geddes, the Minister of Transport, and other members of the Cabinet conferred throughout the morning on the railway strike situation, which apparently was unchanged today.

James Henry Thomas, Secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, gave out a statement declaring he was anxious for a settlement, but adding:

"The attempt to turn the dispute into another than the labor question is complicating the situation and making it dangerous. I definitely refuse to widen the issue."

The Sunday newspapers joined the daily press in condemning the strike.

Premier Lloyd George, telegraphing his regrets that he would be unable to attend the soldiers' celebration at Carnarvon, says:

"In a long and varied experience I can recall no strike entered into so lightly with so little justification and such entire disregard for public interest. The strike is not one in which it can be contended that workers are seeking to win fair wages from their employers, whose profits are believed to be excessive. In this case the railwaymen are dealing direct with the community."

"The state is running the railways at a loss due to the strike. The enormous increase in the wages of the railway workers since the beginning of the war, and also to great reduction in the hours of labor. This loss is being borne by the general taxpayer and will soon have to be passed on to the general public in the form of increased fares and charges. On its merits, the strike is inexplicable."

"The dispute is about something which cannot possibly come into operation until next year. Yet the nation is thrown into the dislocation of a hurried strike without even a week's warning."

Pointing out that the men declined even to discuss the government's offer to consider any particular industries, the Premier declared:

"Every employer, every worker, is entitled to at least one week's notice to terminate contracts of service."

The Premier continues:

"I am convinced that the majority of the trade unionists of the land are opposed to the strike. They can see the ruin and misery it has brought in their hands and they are not prepared to have their organizations against the control of these intriguers. These men have made many efforts to get the levers of trade unionism so far, but their endeavors have ended in failure."

"There is no more patriotic body of men in this country than the railway men, and they conduct their labor in a most dignified and fact. When they realize that they are not fighting for fair conditions of labor of their class, but are being used by extremists for sinister purposes, their common sense will resume its control and they will resume their duties and their families from disaster."

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE.
"Meanwhile, the interests of the nation and government have no alternative but to accept the challenge thrown down to society as a whole. They intend to move in blow at the public will with all the resources at the disposal of the state, and they look to the nation without distinction of class for its effects everywhere, cheerfully to bear the privations which will result from this aid to maintaining the fabric of social order, upon which the prosperity of this country depends."

In the beginning of his message, Lloyd George says:

"I have been constantly criticized as too extreme, as a partisan of those who are struggling for better conditions."

MRS. DOOLEY'S ADVICE TO WORKING GIRLS

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I wish all girls who work and suffer from functional disorders would profit by my advice and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"I was married, when I came home from work at night, and I just would not get on with my work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel like a new woman. I can work from morning until night and it does not bother me, and I wish all girls who suffer as I did would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"Mrs. H. Dooley, 1135 25th St., Milwaukee, Wis."

Working girls everywhere should profit by Mrs. Dooley's experience, and instead of dragging along from day to day with a burden, give this famous medicine a try. For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

FLOOD PRAISES ARMY IN FRANCE

Makes Reply to Criticism of Representative Bland.

Says Investigation Exonerates Brig.-Gen. Harts.

Corrects Error as to Sale of Property to France.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The accomplishments of the American Army in France "were phenomenal and unparalleled," declared Rep. Henry Delaware Flood of Virginia, Democratic member of a House Committee to investigate war expenditures, who has just returned from France after an exhaustive inquiry into American expenditures there and the results of salvage and liquidation efforts.

Representative Bland of Indiana, a Republican member of the committee, has issued a statement charging waste and extravagance in the use of funds, and brutality on the part of some American officers, naming especially Gen. Harts who was accused in connection with the ill-treatment of men at the prison camp at Tulle.

HARTS EXONERATED.
"In justice to Gen. Harts I ought to say that the evidence before the committee exonerated him from the charges of brutality and extravagance and as soon as he learned of them he proceeded to correct them and he did correct them," said Mr. Flood.

"Unless Mr. Bland has had access to evidence which I have not seen, he is in error in his statement that $1,700,000,000 of American property was sold under a blanket contract with France for $400,000,000. The $1,700,000,000, speaking in round numbers, was the cost price of our surplus property in France. An inventory at the time the surplus was declared the value of this property at about $1,000,000,000."

MADE GOOD BARGAIN.
"This surplus consisted of supplies of all sorts of enormous value, such as clothing, food, hospitals, store houses, ice plants, railroad sidings and narrow gauge military railways, which were of no value to us, but a considerable liability because large numbers of soldiers were required to guard them. Of the $1,000,000,000 of property $200,000,000 was sold before the French contract."

"The great depreciation in much of the remainder but under the contract we received fifty cents on the dollar upon the inventory value of this property. This contract also provided that out of the supplies sold to France the American Army should be supplied with everything needed."

"As any part of it remained, this greatly reduced the surplus of the supplies which France will actually receive."

PRaises FOR ARMY.
"I do not agree with Representative Bland's somewhat comprehensive criticism of the American Army in France," said Mr. Flood, "of course, in time and in a business so vast and complicated, some mistakes and errors of judgment are inevitable."

"They were so few in number and so inconsequential in relation to the great service of the army that I am pained that they can hardly be detected."

ILLNESS CAUSE OF GIRL'S RASH ACT.

TAKES HER OWN LIFE BECAUSE SHE CAN'T BE LIKE THE OTHER GIRLS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
RIVERSIDE, Sept. 28.—Because illness prevented her from "being like the other girls," 30-year-old Mary Loudenshine is dead at Riverside Hospital to-day.

She had been in the hospital for several days, suffering from a heart ailment. She died from the combined effects of strangulation and poison.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon J. Loudenshine, live at Long Beach, but she has made her home with an aunt, Mrs. A. C. Christen, residing at 227 Orange street, here, for the last six years. Shortly after the dinner hour last night, Mrs. Christen noted the girl's absence and started an immediate search. She was found in a garage at the rear of the premises lying on the floor unconscious. Eight strands of common wrapping twine were tightly twisted and knotted about her neck.

She died Sunday morning. The body will be removed to Long Beach where funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon.

OLYMPICS CLASH WITH NEVADA THANKSGIVING.

STAGER LOSES DIVORCE SUIT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
RENO, Sept. 28.—Sidney Stager, whose wife, Florence B. Stager, was a showgirl in Ziegfeld's Follies when he married her, and is now one of the Metro stars in Hollywood, failed to get a divorce here today. In Judge Moran's court, the court ordering the case submitted after hearing extensive testimony.

Stager is a wealthy shirt-waist dealer of New York. He came to Nevada on September 7, 1918, from New York. On September 18 Stager told the court he was in Hollywood, in the Golden Hotel, this city, and on the following day served her with the complaint and summons in a suit for divorce. He told the court he had been reliably informed that his wife came here with a Metro company to take scenes at the Reno races. He did not speak to her or see her during her stay here.

His testimony relative to his wife's visit, was corroborated by Herman L. Roth, New York attorney representing the Metro Company, who said he happened to come to Reno on the same train with Mrs. Stager. He said he knew them both in New York. Roth said he visited to Reno was accompanied by the fact that he is attorney for the estate of Nat C. Goodwin, and there is information here about the estate that he desired.

Stager married the Follies girl October 2, 1916, he said, and they lived together till April, 1917. He went home one evening to take his wife to a birthday dinner, Stager testified, and found she was not there. Thinking she might have gone to the party ahead of him he went without her, but found she had not arrived about 1 o'clock, he said, she appeared, and claims she was under the influence of liquor. This she did. The testimony showed Mrs. Stager has been in the cinema about six months.

The copious showers of Saturday and Sunday came just in time to put an end to the most disastrous fires in the history of the forest service in Southern California, according to Forest Supervisor Charlton, who pointed most of yesterday in the vicinity of Sierra Madre, checking up on fire damage in the Angeles National Forest.

According to the latest statistics, 145,300 acres in the mountains of Los Angeles county were burned off in the disastrous fires of the past

Officials of the forest service here expressed the fear yesterday that

Los Angeles county will suffer from floods during the coming winter as a consequence of the fast runoff of storm water when the heavy rains set in. They agree that lack of underbrush in the hills will permit the water from storms in the hills to reach the small mountain creeks more rapidly than would be the

The rains of Saturday and Sunday extinguished more than twenty forest fires which were raging in the hills of this county. The forest service already had most of the fires under control, but they have now been entirely extinguished by the showers, and the hope is expressed that there will be no further outbreak of them this season.

Yesterday morning's rain was quite general over Southern California. It was of no great consequence

The People and Their Trouble

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Losing Love.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

There is nothing that people complain about more bitterly than their loss of love.

"My husband no longer loves me," wails the heart-broken wife.

"My friends no longer love me," complain the lonely.

"No one loves me. No one wants me. I am left desolate and forlorn," cry the old.

And the loveless invariably attribute their misfortunes to the sins of others. It apparently never occurs to them that the fault is theirs, and that when those who have once loved us cease to love us it is because we have become unlovable.

It is the custom to speak of love as if it were an evanescent and intangible as a moonbeam. In reality love is not an illusion that a mysterious fate turns on and off of our lives, as the stage electrician handles the spotlight.

It is a substantial, work-a-day fact, guided and thrifty by the laws of cause and effect.

Love, and we neither have it nor lose it without reason.

The quality in an individual that inspires affection in our breast never loses their power to charm us nor to hold us, and it is only when the conjugal gets too indifferently, or too late to exercise his or her magic that we realize his or her loss.

Indeed, we often lose people long after there is nothing to love in them, because in time affection becomes a habit that is almost unbreakable.

Those whose lamentations over lost love are the loudest are the neglected wives. These consider themselves the victims of the perfidy and faithlessness of man, and this view of the subject is generally shared by the whole feminine sex.

To the average woman, holding her husband's love, is a matter of honor, and a feat of almost of hand comparable only to holding a handful of slippery eels. If she does it, she blesses her stars for her good fortune, but if she lets his heart slip through her fingers she does not blame herself, or hold her negligence in any way responsible for the accident.

Such a woman never asks herself if she is preventing the same line of attractions to her husband that first caught his fancy. When she was young she was pretty, and neat, and attractively groomed. Perhaps as a wife she has grown slovenly and careless of her appearance, and the picture he takes away with him when he goes to work of a morning is of a sloppy woman in a soiled kimono and with cold cream on her face and her hair in crimpers.

As a girl she was gay and good humored and companionable. She flattered and flattered him, and made him feel that he was an oracle who was seven feet high and with a chest expansion like Jess Willard's. As a wife, she is whiny and complaining, and fault-finding and nagging, and about as pleasant a companion as a wet blanket stuck full of needles and pins.

Such a woman wonders that she loses her husband's love. The miracle would be if she kept it. You never see a cheerful, amiable, thrifty, amiable woman flourishing in the role of the neglected wife.

Without leaving behind a single fragrant memory in the path he or she has trod, she has lost him.

Whenever you see old people neglected and unloved it is because they have lived unlovely lives. It is not because the world is headless of age.

If we realized that when we complain of losing love we indict ourselves, we should spend less time in lamentations and more in trying to keep the greatest thing in the world.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q: Does the color of corn indicate its quality?

A: Corn of the same quality may be white, yellow, red, blue or black. White corn is likely to be a bit milder in taste. Various conditions prefer corn of certain colors.

In the south white corn is most popular. In the Northern States prefer yellow corn, and in the Southwest, where the Mexican influence is strong, blue, black and red are popular.

Q: What does "cinema" mean?

A: Cinema is a shortened form of the word cinematograph, which means moving picture machine. So a moving picture show is called a cinema show.

Q: Is it yet possible to state the cost of war?

A: The Treasury Department says that the United States spent during the war, up to June 30, last, $12,860,000,000. The normal expenditures during that period would have been about $2,500,000,000, which would leave $10,360,000,000,000 chargeable to the war. Of this amount $9,000,000,000 was loaned to the Allies and will be returned. The net cost to the government due to the war is therefore about $1,360,000,000.

Q: How can one tell when leap year comes?

A: Those years divisible by four are leap years except when they fall on the even hundred when they must be divisible by four and also by 100. The year 1900 bore the first part of this test, but not the last, and therefore was not a leap year.

Q: What divisions saw most fighting during the war?

A: The First Division spent most time in France and most time under fire—ninety-three days. It captured 449 Germans, lost 4264 killed, and had 19,141 wounded. The Second Division captured 1,931 Germans, lost 4419 killed and had 20,627 wounded. The Seventy-seventh National Army Division, composed largely of New York troops, is reported as having made the greatest advance in the face of the enemy.

Q: Does President Wilson speak French?

A: President Wilson does not speak French. He used an interpreter at Paris.

Q: Which indicates that a baby is a boy, pink or blue?

A: In this country pink is used to indicate a boy and blue a girl.

The lovelessness of the old is upon their own heads. As we grow we reap, and those who in their old age sit forlorn, forgotten, and neglected in their desolate homes, are reaping nothing but the harvest of their own selfishness and lack of kindness to others.

It is a terrible thing to think of a man or a woman living for sixty or seventy years without binding a single human being to him or her, without inspiring any gratitude and appreciation in the breasts of those with whom he or she has lived.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

It's Propaganda. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When we were actively at war with Germany, our wide-awake workers in the four-minute-men field and in practically every branch of government service, were keenly alive to the concerted mental propaganda that was consistently directed towards defeating every right project and purpose of the United States in the conduct of the war.

"We could not raise an army; we could not sell bonds; it was not our fight; we were not trained; we could not get across the water," and so on, covering every branch of the work that was done to do. When the League of Nations was being evolved, it was almost universally looked upon by the citizenry of the United States as being a step forward in human progress, fraught with more than vital essential movement for the welfare of the human race. This same underground mental influence, largely known as German Kultur, and other equally active forces for evil, is attempting in every way to build up hatred for the British and French solidarity in the minds of our American boys and citizenship.

No great movement for the betterment of people and governments ever yet has been accepted by the people who were to be the beneficiaries without all sorts of opposition. Would it then not be well for us to be keenly alert to what is operating at the present time to prevent our Congress from accepting the League of Nations, without the Shantung proposition. If possible, and if not possible, with it? With reservations, if possible, but if not, just as it has been written? The principle back of the formation of this league, the men who have had to do with it, and all that has led up to it, makes it an essential step in the present condition of human thought for the preservation of righteous government, and with such foundation there need be no fear as to its future adjustment to all conditions that may arise in working out rightly the promoting of universal prosperity and peace.

G. M. GIFFEN.

Tell the People.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In an editorial of a recent issue of The Times, you wrote of the necessity of organizing the good citizens of the country to combat the red peril, which is becoming a greater menace day by day.

Before effective organization can be accomplished, it seems to me, the people must be made aware of the real danger confronting the nation by having it constantly put before them. In what way could this be accomplished other than by having four-minute men in all the theaters, as was done during the war?

As you stated, the great majority of the people in all classes are in favor of good government and wish to abide by and help enforce its laws. If the people, then, are made aware of the danger of the red peril, the evil forces constantly at work undermining our government and its institutions, a patriotic work will have been accomplished equal to the raising of any army of defense.

So again, why not the four-minute men in the theaters, where more people can be reached than in any other way? Men selected from the laboring classes to talk as one workman to another could accomplish much. There are, no doubt, many thoughtful, capable men among the laboring people, who would be willing to undertake this patriotic work.

AN INTERESTED READER.

Leave the Gun Outside.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The troubles of Alma Whitaker, set out in the Sunday Times, are so plaintively expressed and are so genuine that my heart, together with my share of all the cheering gun in the world, goes out to her—and I wish to help her from her quandary.

Fifty years have passed since, at my alma mater, I knocked one day at the door of an under-classman. It was raining and the streets were very muddy, and my overcoat carried their share of the common burden. To my knock came the response: "Come in, but leave your guns on the mat by the door."

The under-classman was a Philadelphia. He was because of the Franklinian suggestion of his advice I have, on occasion has very followed it ever since with very satisfactory results.

ELLERY STOWELL.

DOG'S FINEST EXPERIENCE.

It is widely known that fishes and other lower vertebrates possess numerous types of sense organs quite unlike anything in our own bodies, and it is quite impossible for us to form any conception of what the world appears like to these animals except in so far as their sensory equipment is similar to our own.

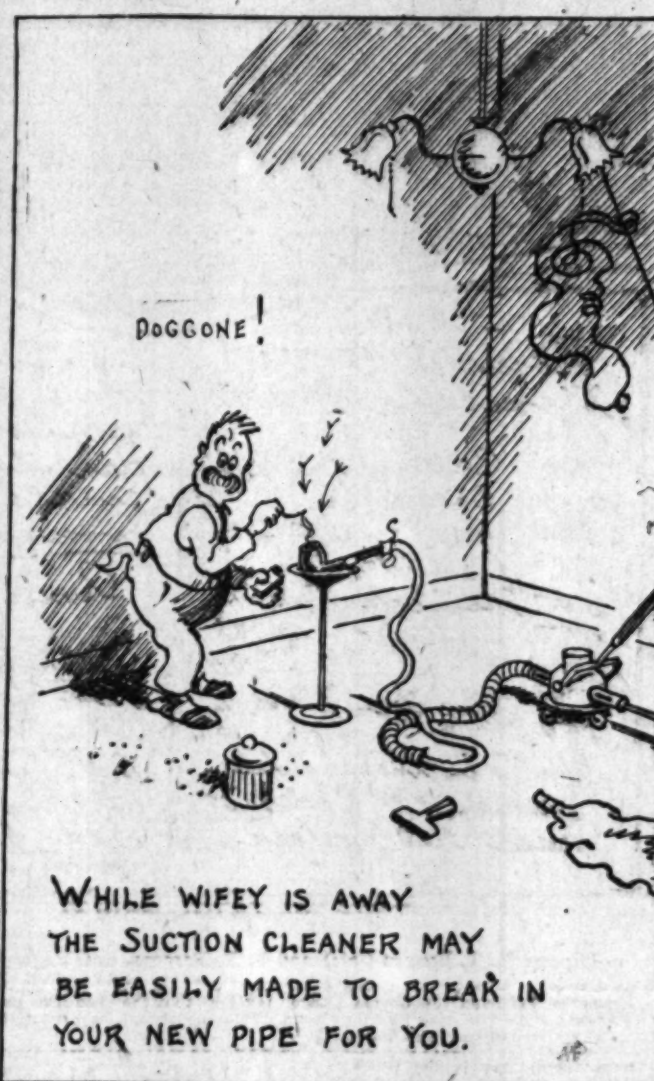

Even the companionable dog, who responds so sympathetically and intelligently to our moods, lives in a very different world.

Recently experiments have shown that his sense of vision is very imperfect, especially for details of form, and everybody knows the inconceivable delicacy of the hound's sense of smell. With up vision, the dominant sense and our mental imagery is largely in terms of things seen. Even a blind man will say, "I see how it is" when he comprehends a demonstration.

What sort of a world is it to a dog, whose finest experiences and chief interests are in terms of odor? —[C. Judson Herrick, in Natural History.

FOR FIGHT ON "WHITE PLAGUE"

Many Coming to Tuberculosis Conference this Week.

Will Urge Open-Air School Rooms for Los Angeles.

How to Aid Stricken Fighters will Get Attention.

Prepared to participate in the fourth annual meeting of the Southwestern Tuberculosis Conference at Long Beach, which will open Wednesday, nationally known health experts are daily arriving in Los Angeles from New York, Washington and other Eastern cities. At the same time, many social service workers are coming to the conference, as their connection with the battle against the white plague is declared to be no less important than that of the doctors.

Every phase of tuberculosis and its economic and social complications will be discussed. Returned soldiers, discharged from the service and without work, who are suffering from the disease, will occupy a large part of the attention of the conference. The programme for these soldiers is finding them occupations that are uplifting, rather than detrimental to health.

Little children and the work of preventing tuberculosis among them will also get much attention. More preventorium for children and open-air schoolrooms will be recommended at the conference. Also steps may be taken to introduce a system of open-air schoolrooms in the Los Angeles schools, and many of the conference workers believe that all cities of America, Los Angeles should lead in this effort, because of her climatic advantages.

Special interest in the conference is centering around the appearance of Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross. Dr. Farrand was chosen by the government to conduct the fight against tuberculosis waged in France during the war, and when he speaks before the conference he will tell many interesting scientific facts connected with that work.

For the more effective study of tuberculosis, a racial clinic will be held, and clinic tests will be made of tubercular patients of various races, among them an American, a Russian, a Mexican, a Japanese and an Indian. Comparative food systems of the different races will be given in reports by expert scientists, and it is believed that by these tests and reports, great progress can be made in the study and prevention of tuberculosis.
